

Don't Fuck With The Baldy

Chris Spivey

Hi All

Well, I guess that it had to happen sooner or later. Later is now and it looks like the site has been targeted by the Arse-holes who live in the house of cards.

Apparently, one of my articles was brought up on the House of Lords website on Friday and the site went down Friday night... Coincidence?

Maureen Green

POSTED ON 18/01/2013 AT 5:21 PM | PERMALINK |

The Judiciary are now held in contempt by the common people mainly through child sex offence debacles which the common man finds abhorrent yet Judges tend to err on the defendants side. People wonder why ?

<http://www.chrisspivey.co.uk/?p=8704>

 14 COMMENTS

So, what naive idiot thought that they only silenced dissidents in countries like Russia & China?

Never the less, since the site went down my right hand man Carl the Tech Guy has been working flat out to try and get us up and running again. Unfortunately, we are still being targeted and as soon as Carl gets one thing sorted another thing goes tits up.

I know fuck all about Computers, I do the easy bit, AKA, the writing, but Carl and some other Tech Guys that he is in contact with, tell me that things are most 'weird' to say the least. Things like: 'We have exceeded our bandwidth', yet we have unlimited bandwidth.

I also have access to the message's that are sent between Carl and others, such as the following:

"Plus the Mysql phpmyadmin database back up was also corrupt. Just waiting now for the DNS to propagate...which is also strange since I am working onsite when it switched to a different IP - same host" !

Which is double fucking Dutch to me, but at the same time, tells me that they are doing everything they can to get us back to normal.

Regrettably, we appear to have lost the last 3 weeks work, which has royally fucked me off. However, that is hopefully the total extent of the damage. In the meantime, accept my apologies for the inconvenience and normal service will be restored ASAP.

I can promise you, that TPTB will not beat us. I have in fact, got more balls than that lot of snivelling cowards will ever have - see picture above - and a mouth to match... I WILL NOT BE SILENCED.

Touch wood, I have now in fact been told that the site is back to its normal running... Thank fuck for that.

To say that this weekend has been stressful is an understatement.

Before this hatchet job happened I was close to finishing an article on David Cameron. I'm still close to finishing it but I have much to do replacing the stuff that has been lost, In fact, I will be up now for the rest of the night just copy and pasting cached articles that have been lost from the site. That has got to be done tonight as I'm told that Google scraps them after a short while..

However, when the article on Cameron comes out in the next day or two, you will see exactly what kind of Monster we have guarding the interests of those he serves... And that isn't us, I can promise you that.

Needless to say, at best Cameron is protecting Paedophiles. And at worst? Well lets just say that I go a long way to proving in this forthcoming article that he is one himself.

It is however, getting harder and harder to find stuff on the internet about the Royal Family and the Government, of the kind that isn't just telling us how great they are. There can be no doubt that bit by bit, the net is being censored. Fortunately, thanks to your kind donations, I can now subscribe to the newspaper archives. I also hope to subscribe to the National Archives and Getty images ASAP.

In regard to those donations; I have, for over a year, shied away from putting a donate button on the site.

However, as the site has got bigger and more popular, so have the demands on my time – I am now putting in a minimum of 16 hrs a day researching, writing and keeping the site updated.

This has been to the detriment of my Job as a Tattoo Artist and my now non existent social life. I am acutely aware that I haven't had a bunk up since the last time and even I'm embarrassed to say when that was.

Mind you, on the upside, I have become a fucking clever cunt.

Having mentioned those donations – thanks again to those who have – I can promise you that for as long as this site remains active, it will remain 100% free to all. And, while I am not criticising the websites that charge a yearly subscription or others that restrict certain information to those who pay a subscription fee, my own personal feelings are that this kind of information should be available to all – and not just those who can afford it. This isn't a game that those cunts are playing, it is a serious fucking business.

Therefore, all I ask is from those who can afford it is to donate a pound, every two to four weeks. It is easy and simple to do, you don't even need a Paypal account – just press the donate button on the home page... I stress, that this is only for those who can afford it, and repeat that those who can't will never ever be restricted in access to the information available on this site.

This in turn will enable me to give up Tattooing while at the same time affording me access to various archives which hold information that isn't freely available on the net any more. By doing so, I will be able to cut down on the wasted hours I spend, trawling endless websites for that all important snippet of information. Moreover, since I have only had one persons Solicitor telling me off, the info must be pretty spot on. And even then, the information was 90 % correct. Certainly, they didn't get the public apology they were seeking.

This weekend, has brought home to me, how much time and effort I do put into this site. I am absolutely delighted, if not a little gob smacked at how big the site has become. Having said that, I still have big ideas for making this site bigger and better.

Course, this weekend has also shown how much TPTB hate me and how they would dearly love to see me 'disappear'... Fuck em, I have a better idea... Lets go to war.

Until the next time,

Much love,

Chris