Hi? hello, how are ya? – well I guess I’m doing fine.

I sincerely hope that you all had a nice enough Christmas, despite what the Satanic day really represents – and of course I am acutely aware that for some of you it will have been an awful struggle financially whilst no doubt leaving others of you with feelings of guilt at not being able to spoil your children the way that you would like… Especially when you have worked your jacksy off all year just to survive.

Indeed the more that I mellow with age (its the big four zero for me this friday… Again), the more time I seem to spend worrying about disadvantaged children and how modern living – for want of better words – is totally fucking them up. And of course the task of stopping the rot setting in is absolutely fucking mammoth… If indeed we ever get the chance to try

Still, that is enough maudling and anyway we may yet get chance to set about the task… We fucking will if I have anything to do with it anyway… And I am trying, oh how I am trying, hence the two major articles that I am working on and continue to grow (Paris and the other one) are still not ready because I fully intend to make them as damning, damaging and irrefutable as possible.

Nevertheless, my continued labour means that you get to read another of those articles that John Hamer sent me to use as I see fit – the majority of which John tells me will be included in his forthcoming new book... And today’s offering is about the City of London.

However, there is just one more [unrelated] matter that I quickly want to mention here and that is in regard to a series of comments from Curious Girl which she has left on the last article that I wrote – “I See Dead People”.

Curious Girl – for the benefit of those who don’t know – is an extremely intelligent, tenacious and determined regular reader of mine, who never fails to impress me with the information that she comes up with when she looks into any subject that catches her eye.

And on this occasion the subject that caught her eye was that of the Christmas Card photo used by Little Bald Willie and his accomplice, Kate Gold-Digger-Smith for this years seasonal greetings – which CG believes to be a hybrid of photos joined together.

I too also looked at the family snapshot and concluded that the photo is a fake – as in the pair didn’t pose for it and therefore neither did the two children who also appear.

However, what I want to add to the mix is to do with a couple of articles published in the Chimp last week which made much of a ‘charidy’ football match that Little Bald Willie and Harry H Hewitt supposedly played in – they didn’t and the photos are blatantly photoshopped with the giveaways easy to spot when you know what to look for.

As for the other article which was also filled with equally cringe worthy comment – those real journalists must really love having shit on their tongues? Well that doozy of an article was to do with the Queer & Co attending church on Christmas Day... Twice apparently, and on both occasions the snappy snaps are also ALL photoshopped... Just like they were for that “private” Christening service that the Firm attended for the child that they refer to as being called Charlotte, earlier on this year.

In fact I really did laugh out loud when the Monkey-Twatz gushingly wrote about the two services that the firm [didn’t] attend at the same Sandringham Church on the same Christmas Day morning because the first visit was – according to the real journalist who copied the story, using his own words – the official, traditional service attended by the royal family and the second was a private service attended by the royal family – as if, in theory that would make a difference to those allowed to attend.

I also noted that Bizzy Lizzie used a framed photoshopped picture of Willie and his ‘family’ – supposedly taken at the aforementioned Christening service that wasn’t – as a desk top prop in her Christmas speech... You couldn’t make that shit up.

Anyway, the point is why have the firm been so reluctant to venture out in this past year?

Could it be that the game is nearly up for the in-bred brood, since it would seem that even PR articles about them such as the Charity football match shite, which the Chimp fooled their Muppet readers into believing that the heir and spare took part in – imagine silly willie trying to play football or liking rugby for that matter – still drew extremely negative comments (at least in the calibre of negative comments that the shit rag begrudgingly lets through)... As did the church excursions.

Indeed, they are all an affront to what real charity is – or should be – all about and as for their spiritual guidance well, lets just say that they are as christian as my right testicle, not to mention an obscene embarrassment to the country as a whole… Just sayin’.

John Hamer’s: THE CITY OF LONDON

As with any investigation into culpability, we should always ‘follow the money’ and in this case it leads to the ultra-powerful, elite bankster families. We will later see further evidence of how they operate, how they enslave humanity and kill millions; crimes that in truth, only the satanically-influenced or psychopathically-minded would be capable of perpetrating.

In 1776, as already related, the Order of the Illuminati was founded by Adam Weishaupt in Bavaria. It was and indeed still is, powerfully connected to the ruling financial elite (banksters) who possess the lion’s share of the world’s wealth. The Rothschilds for instance, played a major role in the financing and support of the Bavarian Illuminati in its formative years, but there are also several other families involved.

Over the years, this organisation of pure evil has spread its despicable tentacles into every country of note but remains largely hidden from view because the Illuminati is after all, a ‘secret society,’ along with its equally repugnant ‘bedfellow,’ Freemasonry.

Indeed at the senior levels of Freemasonry, the boundaries between the two, if they exist at all, become exceedingly blurred. The 13 major Illuminati bloodlines exist as a mirror of the 13 levels of the pyramid as denoted on the seal on the reverse side of the US $1 bill and these wealthy families, who are without doubt the real rulers of the world, were thrust into prominence and empowered in the Satanic master plan carried out by the Illuminati.

There are in total, 13 families who are Illuminati but the membership however, is not completely static. 13 of course, is regarded by them as a Satanic number with magical, occult power and is very much to the forefront of all Illuminati planning yet often used in ‘plain sight’ in their various subterfuges.

There is little doubt of the existence of a long-term plan by the international financial elite to enslave humanity in order to bring about their oft-quoted ‘New World Order.’ This conspiracy is often attributed to various factions including, but not exclusively, the Illuminati themselves, Jews, Zionists, the Vatican, Jesuits, Freemasons the Black Nobility and the Bilderbergers etc. However the truth is that it is a complex hybrid of all these elements that make up the whole sorry group.

But the real villains are those at the heart of our economic and cultural life. They are the dynastic families, the ‘Royals,’ the owners of the Bank of England, the US Federal Reserve and associated cartels. They also control the World Bank and IMF and most of the world’s Intelligence agencies. Their identity is meant to be secret but the Rothschilds are certainly among their number. We should never forget that money is power and this power rests largely in the ‘City of London.’

The ‘City of London’

The great majority of people assume that the phrases ‘the Crown’ and ‘the City’ in reference to London, refer to the Queen or the capital of England.

However, this is not so. ‘The City’ is in fact a privately owned Corporation and Sovereign State occupying an irregular rectangle of 677 acres, approximately one square mile and located right in the heart of the 610 square mile Greater London area. The population of ‘the City’ is listed at just over four thousand, whereas the population of the 32 Boroughs of Greater London is approximately seven and a half million. This square mile that constitutes the ‘City’ has its own mayor, laws, courts, flag, police force and newspapers, characteristic of all three independent ‘City States,’ the City of London, Washington DC and Vatican City. They are in effect countries within countries, but only Vatican City is officially accorded the title of ‘country.’

The true identity of ‘the Crown’ however is kept most secret, but nevertheless it was the Crown-controlled Bank of England that took and assumed control of the United States during the Theodore Roosevelt Administration (1901-1909) when its agent, who was in reality a Crown agent (J. P. Morgan and Co.), assumed control of 25% of American business interests.

‘The Crown’ has never referred to the King or Queen of England, not since the establishment of the corporate body, but the British Monarchy is a figurehead for ‘the Crown,’ rules parliament in Great Britain and has absolute authority over the Prime Minister and his government through a Vatican knighthood by the name of the Order of the Garter. Despite its many sycophantic apologists, encouraged all the while by the compliant media and the political hierarchy, who claim that the Royal family are just ‘figureheads,’ unfortunately this is absolutely, categorically NOT the case at all.

The Crown is the directorate of the corporation, and Great Britain is ruled by the Crown, the City of London which controls the Bank of England – a private corporation. In other words ‘the City’ is a ‘private’ state existing in Britain within the very heart of London. It became a sovereign-state in its own right in 1694 when King William III sanctioned the privatisation of the Bank of England, and handed it over to the banksters who today rule the financial world... in exactly the same way that the FRB banksters were freely given the ultimate control of money in the US in 1913.
Today, the City State of London is the world’s ultimate centre of financial power and the wealthiest square mile on the planet. The City is also unsurprisingly, home to the privatised Bank of England, Lloyd’s of London, the London Stock Exchange and the headquarters of all British-based and many foreign banks. It is home to the branch offices of 385 foreign banks plus 70 US banks, as well as many newspapers and publishing monopolies. It controls the world media and the world’s intelligence services and it is from within the Crown City of London that British Freemasonry, overseen by the British Monarchy specifically the Duke of Kent (Freemasonic Grand Master), and indeed World Freemasonry is governed. This includes the Grand Orient Masonic Order and the Washington DC version, ‘Scottish Rite Freemasonry.’

‘The Crown’ is a committee of twelve men who rule the independent sovereign state known as ‘the City.’ ‘The City’ is not part of England and not subject to the Sovereign ruler of Great Britain and its Commonwealth. Neither is it under the rule of the British parliament, it is a separate, independent state presided over by a Lord Mayor.

The Lord Mayor and his council serve as proxies or representatives who in effect deputise for the world’s wealthiest, most powerful banking families, including the Rothschild family, the Warburg family, the Oppenheimer family and the Schiff family. These families and their descendants own and run the Crown Corporation of London. The Lord Mayor, who is elected for a one year term, is the absolute ‘monarch’ in the City.

“The relation of this monarch of the City to the monarch of the realm [Queen] is curious and tells much. When the Queen of England goes to visit the City she is met by the Lord Mayor at Temple Bar, the symbolic gate of the City. She bows and asks for permission to enter his private, sovereign State. During such State visits the Lord Mayor in his robes and chain, and his entourage in medieval costume, outshines the royal party, which can dress up no further than service uniforms.” Aubrey Menen, Time-Life, 1976, p. 16

So, the Lord Mayor leads the Queen into his city. The symbolism is clear; the Lord Mayor is the monarch and the Queen is his subject. The Queen is subordinate to the Mayor only in the City but outside of the City of London he bows to her and furthermore, this exclusive clique who rule the City dictate to the British Parliament, despite the fact that in theory, Britain is ruled by a Prime Minister and a Cabinet of Ministers. These ‘fronts’ go to great lengths to create the impression that they are running the country but, in reality, they are mere puppets whose strings are pulled by the shadowy characters who dominate behind the scenes.

As the former British Prime Minister of England during the late 1800s Benjamin Disraeli wrote... “So you see... the world is governed by very different personages from what is imagined by those who are not behind the scenes” ‘Coningsby,’ The Century Co., 1907, p233

The City of London is the only part of Britain over which parliament has no authority whatsoever and in one respect at least, the Corporation acts as the superior body of the two. It imposes on the House of Commons a figure referred-to as the ‘Remembrancer,’ an official lobbyist who sits behind the Speaker’s chair and ensures that, whatever we or our elected representatives might think, the City’s rights and privileges are fully protected.

The now greatly depleted British Empire was an extension of banksters’ financial interests. Indeed, all the colonies were ‘Crown Colonies.’ They belonged to the City and were not subject to British law although British citizens were expected to shed blood (often their own) and conquer and pay for them. Western colonisation is widely taught in school history courses, so it need not be repeated here but one key aspect of the colonial period is generally omitted or air-brushed from official history and that is the fact that all the Crown colonies were established on a corporate model with financial ties to the City of London, not to the nation of the United Kingdom (the official name of the political entity consisting of England, Scotland, Wales and Northern Ireland.) The UK is a Crown colony but the City of London is not.

The directorate of the Crown, had and has no loyalty to any nation, they were and are, devoted entirely to their own philosophy, which seeks absolute power and wealth. For more than 250 years, the ‘servants’ of the Crown brought untold wealth back from the colonies to the British Isles – to enrich their bankster masters only. The general population of the United Kingdom received very little wealth as a result of these exploits, if any at all, despite the fact that it was they who provided the finance through taxation and the ‘cannon fodder’ in the form of the armed forces, to enable the subjugation of foreign powers in order that the banksters could profit from the altruistic exploits of the armed forces.

These servicemen were invaluable assets of the Crown, but they did not know whom or what they served – and indeed still do not. (None are more hopelessly enslaved than those who believe they are free). Historian Jeffrey Steinberg could also have been referring to the US, Canada or Australia (or any other country you care to name) when he wrote that... “England, Scotland, Wales, and Northern Ireland, are today little more than slave plantations and social engineering laboratories, serving the needs of the Crown/City of London.”

According to the American Almanac, the Crown and their associated banksters are part of a network with an estimated $10 trillion in physical assets (as opposed to non-existent paper and money in its various electronic forms.) The Crown is in total control of such corporate giants as Royal Dutch Shell, the former companies comprising the giant Imperial Chemical Industries, (now ‘rationalised’ into many different organisations), Lloyds of London, Unilever, Lonrho, Rio Tinto Zinc, and Anglo-American DeBeers. It completely dominates the world supply of oil, gold, diamonds, and many other vital raw materials.

The Crown/City of London also dominates the world’s speculative markets. A tightly interlocking group of corporations involved in raw materials extraction, finance, insurance, transportation and food production, controls the lion’s share of the world’s markets and exerts supreme control over world industry.

In order to understand the genuine motives for particular actions and events in history we already know to ‘follow the money,’ but that is only part of the story, we must also follow the philosophy and the religious beliefs of those in control. For purposes of clarity, ‘the Crown’ always refers here to a stealthy circle of power-brokers (the banksters) who all believe in the Freemasonic philosophy of the ‘brotherhood of man’ ruled by philosopher kings (or adepts) in league with the God of Masonry. This point is not up for debate, it is only necessary to read some of the cumbersome histories of Masonry and also read Albert Pike’s Morals and Dogma to understand explicitly that this power-philosophy encompasses virtually all the religious ideas ever imagined by man.

Ordinary members of Masonic lodges, those of the so-called ‘blue degrees,’ numbered 1-3 or the three overt levels, the only ones to which most Masons can aspire, are to these adepts and their goals what the people of the Western civilisations are to the directors of the Crown, that is ‘useful idiots.’ This ultra-secretive, all-pervasive cabal is represented by the dominant political, economic and cultural institutions across the world. Indeed, western society has been thoroughly subverted and western culture is morally bankrupt, whilst our so-called democracies are a subtle form of social control and the mass media and our so-called education systems are nothing more than a sham or at best, covert forms of indoctrination.

The British government is the bonded slave of the ‘invisible and inaudible’ force centred in the City and the City is the master of all. The ‘visible and audible leaders’ ie. ‘elected’ politicians, are mere puppets who dance to the tunes of the real powers-that-be. They have no real power and no authority and in spite of the outward show to the contrary, they are mere pawns in the on-going game being played-out by the financial elite, the banksters.

It is important to recognise the fact that two separate empires were operating under the guise of the British Empire, one was the Crown Empire and the other the British Empire. The colonial possessions that consisted primarily of white people were under the jurisdiction of the Sovereign ie. under the authority of the British government that is such nations as the Union of South Africa, Australia, New Zealand and Canada were governed under British law. However, these only represented around 13% of the people who made up the inhabitants of the British Empire.

All the other elements of the Empire, nations such as India, Egypt, Bermuda, Malta, Cyprus and colonies in Central Africa, Singapore and Hong Kong were all Crown Colonies. These were not under British rule and parliament had no authority over them. As the Crown owned the committee known as the British government there was no problem whatsoever in convincing the British taxpayer of the need to pay for naval and military forces to maintain the Crown’s supremacy in these countries.

The City reaped enormous profits from its operations conducted under the protection of the British armed forces however, but this was not British commerce and British wealth it was the international banksters, prosperous merchants and those members of the aristocracy who were part of the ‘City’ machine that accumulated vast fortunes, especially as the ‘City’ is also a tax haven for them. In fact it is linked to other satellite tax havens across most time zones, ranging from Hong Kong and Singapore in the East, to the British Virgin Islands, the Turks and Caicos Islands, Bermuda and the Cayman Islands and the Bahamas in the West. All of these havens are Frankenstein creations of the City, as are the Crown Dependency islands of Guernsey, Isle of Man and Jersey. Is it any surprise that the rich just keep getting richer!?
