

Rolf Harris charged with sexually abusing a 7 year old child

The Daily Chimpanzee

So, Rofl Rolf has been charged with sexually assaulting a 7 year old little girl has he... I am surprised and a little shocked.

I should clarify that statement.

You see, I'm not in the least surprised or shocked that the dirty nonce cunt sexually abused a 7 year old.

I had heard all I needed to hear about the lump of dog shit long before he was even questioned by the plod.

In fact I actually have a lengthy list of names who are knob-ed nonce celebs... There are only one or two surprises amongst the names though.

What I am surprised and a little shocked at is that the dirty vile kiddy fiddler has been charged.

I mean, you don't get to paint Sweaty Betty unless you are part of her gang.

Would she dare take a chance letting him be hung out to dry? Could she be sure that he wouldn't sing like a Canary?

Not that the MSM would print his revelations anyway.

Neither can I see the old pervert being able to survive any prison time.

Doctor Stephen Ward used to do drawings of the Royal Family, don't cha know.

And then when he was hung out to dry over the Profumo affair, he committed 'suicide'.

The Duck of Edinburgh then despatched the notorious nonce monster Anthony Blunt to retrieve all of Wards drawings that he had done of the royal ponces and life went on as before... Well it didn't for the devil worshipping Stephen Ward, but you know what I mean.

You can read all about Phil the Duck's and the Cunt Camerons in laws involvement in the Profumo scandal in my very well recieved article Monsters Inc should you wish to.

As for the vile cunt Harris? Well, it is well documented that the paedophile performer has been in The Priory Clinic for depression.

Therefore, the ground work is already done... Just sayin'.

Charged: Rolf Harris, pictured with his wife Alwen Hughes, has been charged with three more counts against young girls

Rolf Harris has been charged with three more counts of indecent assault against young girls, it emerged last night.

The 83-year-old entertainer is already facing four counts of possessing indecent images of children and nine of indecent assault against two girls under 16 in the 1980s.

He is now alleged to have abused two more girls – one of them a child aged just seven or eight.

Last night a spokesman from the Crown Prosecution Service confirmed that the Australian painter now faces a total of 16 offences under operation Yewtree, the task force set up following the Jimmy Savile scandal.

He said: 'The CPS has decided that Rolf Harris is to be prosecuted over a further three allegations of indecent assault.

'The three counts will be prosecuted in addition to the 13 sexual offences with which Mr Harris was charged on 29 August 2013.

'The alleged offences relate to one existing complainant and two new complainants.

'These three allegations were included in the file sent to the CPS by the Metropolitan Police in August of this year, however as part of the ongoing review process for all cases, it has been decided that these allegations should be formally added to the indictment as further counts.'

Two of the latest charges relate to the abuse of a child of seven or eight years old during the late sixties and to a girl aged 19 in 1984.

The third count relates to a further accusation from an existing alleged victim, who claims he molested her as a 14-year-old girl in 1975.

The three new allegations were included in the documentation sent by police in August but have now been formally added to the charge sheet after a review by senior lawyers.

Harris, who has painted a portrait of the Queen and performed at her diamond jubilee concert last year, is expected to enter a plea to all the allegations when he appears at Southwark Crown Court in South London on January 14.

Harris has been arrested twice over the allegations and questioned under caution during an investigation that saw police officers fly to his native Australia in March this year.

The previous charges were made in August but despite the news going public he has remained silent on the issue.

The entertainer from Berkshire is the highest profile celebrity to be charged under operation Yewtree.

The four offences of making indecent images of a child are said to have occurred as late as between March and July last year and alone carry a maximum jail term of ten years.

His first chart hit Tie Me Kangaroo Down Sport made him a star in 1960 and led to a successful music career which saw him perform at Glastonbury several times.

He met his wife Alwen Hughes, a Welsh sculptor, when they were art students and the pair married in 1958.

They have a daughter Bindi, 49, who is a painter.
