

Watkins? Blame the internet.

The Daily Chimpanzee

"I know" say the government. "Lets use this Watkins thing to our advantage. I will contact his parents".

Cunts!

The following is what Ian Watkins parents said about their lovely boy:

The distraught parents of Ian Watkins have spoken of their horror at their son's 'heinous' crimes against children, comparing him to notorious paedophile Jimmy Savile.

Church minister John Davies, 53, and his wife Elaine, 60, raised Watkins in a Baptist manse in Pontypridd, South Wales, where he was a straight-A pupil and a talented musician.

They were hugely proud of their boy, who achieved a first class honours degree before making a name for himself as a rock singer who refused to drink or do drugs.

So where did it all go wrong Ian Watkins parents?

Despite the guilt felt by Watkins's distraught parents, the true blame for his descent into depravity appears to lie with a sudden and intensifying obsession with online pornography.

Ohhhh, I see.

Does Hamster. com have a lot of videos of thirty odd year old fellas having sex with babies then?

On-line porn is not to blame for the depraved cunts behaviour. Neither is the governments determination to censor porn on the internet their main objective.

That fact is obvious by the way that they are so quick to condemn Social Networking sites every time a teenager commits suicide.

What the cunts want is total control of what you can and cannot read or watch on-line... And that is something that they must never be allowed to do.

The internet is not theirs to censor and blaming the actions of a few on what they have viewed or been subjected to on-line just doesn't carry water.

Its a bit like getting rid of the Human Rights act in order to deport one or two individuals thus leaving us all with no protection.

Its a fucking con.

If you want to know where the blame lies for Watkins ultra depraved actions look to the elite controlled music business and what you are expected to do to get on in the industry.

Will the old bill investigate the depravity that is taking place there?

Are they investigating Savile properly?

Will they fuck and are they fuck.

Fuck me, you only need look at how many times it took for people to report Watkins before the Welsh plod took action against him to know that all of the British police forces know where the problem lies but are told to lay off by the top brass who are all part of the Satanic set up.

Think for yourselves instead of letting the MSM think for you.

The Baptist minister's stepson warped by online porn: Distraught parents of Ian Watkins say he could be remembered like some 'sort of Jimmy Savile character'

- Minister John Davies and his wife Elaine raised Watkins in a Baptist manse
- They were proud of their son who achieved a first class honours degree
- Parents say they are struggling to understand how he turned into a child abusing monster facing years behind bars

By PAUL BENTLEY

PUBLISHED: 23:19, 26 November 2013 | UPDATED: 12:10, 27 November 2013

The distraught parents of Ian Watkins have spoken of their horror at their son's 'heinous' crimes against children, comparing him to notorious paedophile Jimmy Savile.

Church minister John Davies, 53, and his wife Elaine, 60, raised Watkins in a Baptist manse in Pontypridd, South Wales, where he was a straight-A pupil and a talented musician.

They were hugely proud of their boy, who achieved a first class honours degree before making a name for himself as a rock singer who refused to drink or do drugs.

Scroll down for video

Before his decline: Ian Watkins with his mother Elaine. His parents were hugely proud of their boy

But after Watkins became twisted by extreme online pornography, they are now struggling to accept how he could have turned so quickly from a teetotal singer with the world at his feet to a child abusing monster facing years behind bars.

'This is so hard. It's overwhelming. It has affected every aspect of our lives,' Mr Davies told the Daily Mail.

More...

- Female fans warned for nearly four years that Lostprophets singer Ian Watkins was obsessed with child porn... so why didn't the police act sooner?
- Row about Nigella's decade of daily cocaine use may have triggered Charles Saatchi's restaurant 'choking' assault, court hears

'It's the first thing a parent asks themselves – where did we go wrong? What happened?

'Ian was loved, cherished, encouraged and nurtured. We did our best. He was a normal happy young lad who grew up in the Valleys in a loving family which had no more problems than anybody else has.

Mug shot: Lostprophets singer Ian Watkins faces jail today after he admitted a series of sexual offences against babies

'I don't know how this will turn out. I don't know whether he will be remembered for years to come as somebody infamous and evil – like a sort of Jimmy Savile character. I hope not.

'I hope something will happen to change that perception of people. Time will tell. We're going to do our best to support him and hope for the best, that's all we can do.'

Despite the guilt felt by Watkins's distraught parents, the true blame for his descent into depravity appears to lie with a sudden and intensifying obsession with online pornography.

Watkins, 36, was brought up in quiet and picturesque Welsh valley town Merthyr Tydfil.

His natural father died when he was five and his mother married Mr Davies three years later.

The family say Watkins was never pressured into being religious, but quietly encouraged with his school work and passion for singing.

He excelled at both, achieving top grades at Hawthorn High School in Pontypridd, before getting first class honours in a graphic design degree at the University of Wales.

He practised music in his parents' garage with his friends, including the son of a vicar.

Those early sessions led to local gigs and, eventually, superstardom. The band Lostprophets, formed by the Welsh boys in that garage, would go on to sell 3.5million albums.

While their sound was rock and roll, their lifestyles were anything but. They became known for positive lyrics and preached of living a 'straight edge' life of abstinence.

Iain Watkins, with his mother Elaine. He claims that he was high on drugs so doesn't remember what he did

Five years ago, however, all that started to change. Female fans invited into Watkins's inner circle began writing worrying messages on internet message boards. Some had found child porn on his computer and said he talked openly about having sex with children and animals.

He had been dating a dominatrix who promoted 'no boundaries' parties online, while uploading a series of pictures of him taking part in extreme sex sessions.

The formerly teetotal singer, who dated television presenter Fearne Cotton at the height of his fame, had also begun experimenting with drugs, including crystal meth.

Prosecution: Cardiff Crown Court heard today that Watkins was 'a determined and committed paedophile engaged in serious sex offences involving of two babies'

Disgraced: Ian Watkins sold millions of records as lead singer of Lostprophets but his crimes have shocked the band and his fans

What we now know is he was also grooming female fans with young children so he could convince them to let him abuse their babies.

When his parents heard the charges against him, they were stunned. His mother, who had a kidney transplant two years ago, is in serious ill health, exacerbated by the stress of finding out about his crimes.

'When the CPS spoke and the clerk read out the allegations, Elaine and I just sat there and our jaws dropped. We could not believe what we were hearing,' said Mr Davies.

© XPOSUREPHOTOS.COM

Cri

minal: Ian Watkins, 35, pictured with former girlfriend Fearne Cotton, faces jail after his guilty pleas. They pair are pictured together in London in 2008

'It was devastating. We thought, "there must be some mistake here. There must be some reason for this. There's no way that this is true".

'We just left the magistrates' court in a state of absolute despair and shock.'

Mr Davies said he and his wife, from whom he is now separated, had tried to work out what they could have done wrong.

'Although no family is perfect, there is nothing we can put our finger on,' he added. 'This has just horrified all of us.'